Our Subsidiary in Singapore Attained STP Certification

We hereby announce that the certification of Secure Trade Partnership (hereinafter called “STP”), an authorised economic operator (AEO) programme in Singapore, was awarded by Singapore Customs to one of our wholly-owned subsidiary companies, Sumitomo Warehouse (Singapore) Pte Ltd (hereinafter called “SWS”).

STP is the programme to certify that an importer, exporter or logistics operator engaged in supply chains including Singapore satisfies the prescribed guidelines in security management, risk management and measures against incidents etc. in each process through international transportations. SWS will be recognised as a company providing services with higher safety and also can enjoy the benefits such as reduced possibility of cargo inspection by the customs in Singapore.

The other company of our wholly-owned subsidiaries in Singapore, Union Services (S’pore) Pte Ltd, attained STP-Plus certification, the higher level certification in STP programme, in September 2011. SWS keeps reinforcing its security management system etc. to provide our customers with the services with still higher safety and quality and aims to attain STP-Plus certification as well.
