New Warehouse Construction Project in Laem Chabang, Thailand Completed

Our subsidiary in Thailand, Sumiso (Laem Chabang) Co., Ltd., completed its new warehouse in Laem Chabang.

We, Sumitomo Warehouse Group, provide various logistics services based in Ayutthaya, Bangkok, Laem Chabang and Suvarnabhumi International Airport in Thailand. Our first warehouse in Laem Chabang area completed in October 2016 shows strong performance, and logistics demand is expected to expand in this area because it embraces the largest trading port in Thailand and many industrial parks are located in the surrounding areas. Considering such circumstances, we built the second warehouse in this area as planned initially and held a completion ceremony on November 27, 2018.

The new warehouse started operations after completion on November 15, 2018. The new warehouse, as well as the first warehouse, is equipped with a canopy at a depth of 15 meters to accommodate cargo handling in rainy weather and has wide pillar intervals so as to meet various demands from small parts to long-width items.

With this new warehouse, the total floor area of the warehouses owned by our group reached about 20,000 square meters in Laem Chabang area and about 36,000 square meters in Thailand including Ayutthaya area. We will provide our customers with total logistics services from storage to transportation in cooperation with our overseas group bases.
